

THE CITY: MÁLAGA.

With 566,447 inhabitants the city of Málaga is the sixth by population in Spain and second in Andalusia after Seville. Commercial city, has in tourism one of its main sources of revenue, boosted by a important international airport recently expanded, 10 kilometres far from the centre. These characteristics, and our fantastic weather, make it a cosmopolitan city very attractive for students from other countries.

ESAD MALAGA (Escuela Superior de Arte Dramático de Málaga)

Currently the centre is located on a plot of 7,000 square meters in which rise three independent but interconnected buildings: teaching area, theatre and administrative offices. It has 28 spaces for the regular teaching classes, divided into seven practices- classrooms normally used in acting and stage management practices (equipped with a small theatrical lighting equipment), eight classrooms for subjects about movement, five classrooms for theoretical subjects and music, a classroom for set design, a classroom for costume design, a classroom to study the makeup and characterization, four classrooms for lessons related to voice and a gymnasium for acrobatics and fencing.

In addition to these spaces, the Centre has others that make possible additional and artistic activity, and we add to the mentioned a computer room, sound booth, stores for set, theatrical props and costumes and library. The ESAD also has good number of locker rooms and showers for students and teachers, and bar services.

The building also includes areas for the coordination of the various teaching departments and an area for administration and management of the Centre and for rest of the faculty. Students have also their own area for rest and their activities, which is equipped with many computers and with Internet access. There is also a copy centre such as the bar maintained by external companies.

The outdoor areas have car parking for the workforce, bicycle and motorcycle parking for students and recreation areas, usable also as outdoor performing spaces. The equipment has a basic telephone network and local area network and Internet connection. Each classroom has an autonomous control module, wireless UHF-VHF and FM internal network connection to the Internet and air conditioning.

The staff of the ESAD includes 46 specialist professors, five members of administration and services and about 250 /300 students. The professors are divided in six teaching departments:

- Acting Department.
- Voice and Music Department.
- Movement Department.
- Theatrical Sciences Department.
- Stage Management Department.
- Scenic Design Department.

We must add:

- Department of Cultural and Extracurricular Activities
- International Relations Department

Currently three specialism are given:

- Acting
- Acting for Musicals
- Stage management

We hope begin to provide playwriting as soon as possible.
